

The Anvil Weight Of Intolerance Around Lady Liberty's Neck!

It is difficult for us to understand how so many would-be American citizens have been "politicized" to the degree that they are totally without reason or rationalization when it comes to what is good for America -- and what is trash!

The radicals among us insist that our present President is unfit to serve. Their rationale for that belief of theirs is totally unclear, and, as far as we can determine, they have no alternative except to take to the streets and to blather about how bad off we are "because. . . blah, blah. . ."

It has to come to mind! Has our education system in America become so irrational that it is helping to create warped citizens who do not really know what they believe or why? All they seem to be able to do -- is to complain!

The radical element to which we refer here seems to be those who would have us accept a Hillary with all her baggage as though it would be a fair and better choice than what we now have. Those who believe as "democrats" neither look too far ahead anymore, nor do they look behind them. Does anyone call that "rational?"

Just for perspective: Obama's reign was abysmal! A Hillary reign (in our best judgement) would be catastrophic.

What exists about the present administration (and that which is being accomplished) do you find so unpleasant?

If the radical element in our present-day society, is successful in unseating President Donald Trump for no more specific reason than they find him distasteful -- then America will have allowed herself to become another Third World misfit, without purpose and without destination. . . except the trash-heap of history.

We have so-called "educated" Americans who not only do not accept reasonable change, they join together to insist that theirs is the ONLY way, and they do it for selfish reasons -- namely their own profit!

Unless it is proven that Donald Trump has misrepresented himself to the American people, then he deserves his place in history. Certainly, to a greater degree than do those who complain only for their own profit and satisfaction.

SOMETIMES ELECTED OFFICIALS FORGET THEIR PLACE -- ESPECIALLY WHEN TWO OR MORE OF THEM AGREE!

Compare what the radicals are trying to do to America, with our own situation in Chilton County, Alabama.

Chilton County is a rural, farming, middle-class, "bedroom-type" community that is essentially laid-back and comfortable.

Why do our so-called "leaders" not accept that when they accept the office that those people who live here, offer them?

O! Tuck has been around these parts for a long time. Some would feel that we have maybe been here too long, or that we maybe are too slow to change.

The fact of the matter is, we are, indeed, slow to change. We are not ashamed of that fact. We have personally observed (and worked with) quite a number of political, social, and civic leaders in Chilton County over the years; both as individuals and groups.

The most challenging thing to any generation, trying to keep-up in what we consider to be "this modern world," is "what is it that the majority of the people want," and "how do we involve and satisfy that need for "progress" that seems always to be prevailing?"

It has been our experience that there are always members of the governing bodies inside our County who -- in wanting what is "best" as they see it -- have a tendency to overreact to large metropolitan areas of the State. Those that (socially and civically) are a far cry from our smaller, more personal, and more beautiful world.

To put it succinctly, Chilton County is not Jefferson County, or Montgomery County, and our people are certainly not required to push themselves to live like cityfide "New Yorkers!" Usually, a large metropolitan area requires actions by its members, to do things that us country folks do not like, and would not do.

Some of our elected officials have always been impressed by "big-city" attitudes. The demands upon the citizenry that go along with that high-falootin' STUFF, are anything but satisfying!

We live here because it is unpretentious and casual and that is the way that most of us like it, or we wouldn't be here. When the majority of the folks express themselves -- It will pay to LISTEN!

WITHOUT NATIONAL HONOR AND HOPE YOU HAVE "GLOBALISM!" DEFINE IT, AND THEN TELL US YOU PROMOTE IT!

How many, if any, of those radical liberals we keep hearing, seeing, smelling, and (almost) tasting, have paused in their street-stomping and name-calling to reflect on just how much better-off America might be with new people in places of political strength and influence? Consider only those who call themselves legal American citizens.

These monarch-searchers who seem to believe that we all should be like those who have recently boarded at the White House, cannot (and will not) fathom the likelihood that America is about one-hundred percent better off WITHOUT the likes of the democrats' Hillary and Obama. Most of the prominent democrats of the day -- by far -- do not reach specifications that are good for the average American citizen. Not in our book, anyway!

Hillary will not "just go away!" If you don't believe that, then you are not paying near enough attention to your government. Obama (as far as regular folks are concerned) has disappeared into the woodwork, but he continues his self-serving as often as he possibly can. He keeps coming back (but not like a song).

The political "PARTY-OF-LIBERAL" of our day has proven beyond any doubt whatsoever that they do not and would not "lead" America in a way that is good FOR AMERICANS! The Pope does not like NATIONAL choice and says it is un-Christian.

We happen to believe that National HOPE and HONOR are the very things Americans need for a majority of us to understand what it takes to have a country that is worth living in, and worth saving and protecting from charlatans. "Un-Christian"?
